CBM Global Policy: Environmental Responsibility

July 2021
Rationale

Environmental degradation, climate change, food shortages and competition for scarce resources are inextricably linked with poverty and disability. People in the world’s poorest communities have generally made the smallest contribution to greenhouse gases in the atmosphere, yet have to carry some of the largest impacts of climate change. Exclusion of people with disabilities from actions related to environmental sustainability will greatly exacerbate their poverty and deprivation.

In discussing environmental responsibility, CBM Global is referring to the ‘natural environment’, and not the ‘built environment’, as referred to in CBM Global’s ‘Policy on Accessibility’.

We define Environmental Sustainability as the sustainability of the natural environment, requiring society to meet human needs while preserving the life support systems of the planet.

Purpose

The purpose of this Environmental Responsibility policy is to outline CBM Global’s commitment to protecting and enhancing the natural environment, including by playing our part in seeking to reduce climate change, through reduction of, or compensation for our carbon emissions. The policy is based on the approach of progressive realisation, providing a framework for CBM Global’s actions to be implemented in a phased manner, based on the principle of ‘continuous improvement’.

This policy also reflects CBM Global’s programme standard on Environmental Responsibility as detailed in CBM Global’s Programme Quality Framework (PQF).

Scope

CBM’s Environmental Responsibility policy is applicable to CBM Global, covering Secretariat, Thematic and Country teams. Member Associations are encouraged to adopt the policy where no policy currently exists, and/or to ensure that any existing MA policies relating to environmental responsibility align with this policy.

CBM Global expects partners, consultants, contractors and any other third parties providing products, goods, services, systems or facilities on behalf of CBM Global or as part of programmes funded via CBM Global, to commit themselves towards environmental responsibility.

Environmental considerations for programme design and implementation should follow CBM Global’s programme development and assessment procedures, in accordance with the Programme Quality Framework environmental commitments.
Statement and Commitments

Statement

CBM Global commits to participating in global efforts aimed at protecting and enhancing the natural environment, and reducing climate change, including through the lowering of, or compensation for our carbon emissions. Furthermore, CBM Global commits to ensuring that people with disabilities participate in and benefit from poverty-reducing environmental strategies as their human right.

This commitment is based on the principles of the CRPD and of Agenda 2030 and its 17 Sustainable Development Goals.

In line with our vision and values, the Sustainable Development Goals, and the global environment in which CBM Global is operating:

1) We are committed to continuous improvement in our performance towards environmental sustainability.
2) We seek out opportunities to enhance environmental sustainability and biodiversity relevant to our operations, wherever possible and while ensuring sustained functioning of our activities.
3) We strive to avoid, reduce or mitigate the negative impacts of our operations on the environment at local, national and global levels.
4) We seek to reduce our organisational contribution to human induced climate change, by the lowering of carbon emissions resulting from our operations.

Implementation

In taking a progressive realisation approach and operating within available budgets, a set of guidelines are maintained (Guidelines for implementing the policy on Environmental Responsibility) which serve as prompts to help staff think through where they can reduce negative environmental impacts and enhance environmental sustainability.

Careful judgement is required to adopt actions that reduce negative environmental impacts in a way that is relevant and appropriate to the local context and in keeping with our commitments to inclusion. The policy is to be implemented in conjunction with CBM Global’s Policy on Accessibility, Health, Safety and Security and other relevant policies including our commitment to inclusive employment, ensuring for example that actions taken do not undermine staff safety or the reasonable accommodation that may be required by some members of staff.

We request CBM Global offices to appoint an ‘Environment Champion’ who can lead these discussions and identify improvement commitments. Line managers should also have on their staff meeting agendas periodic reviews of these improvement commitments and progress reached, in conjunction with CBM Global’s Policy on Accessibility, Health, Safety and Security and other relevant policies.
